CHING OUTLINE

FOLDER NO. 9-2
(C)

PLEASE RETAIN ORIGINAL ORDER

CHING OUTLINE

OUTLINE

I. GEOGRAPHY AND POPULATION

A. Administrative Geography
   1. Historical development (Manchuria, China Proper, conquered territories: Mongolia, Tibet, Singkiang)
   2. Main divisions (provinces), including population figures

B. Human Geography
   1. Economic and folkloristic peculiarities of various regions
   2. Concrete descriptions of town and village life

C. Population and Migrations (Data concerning the organization of census, changes in population, migrations, causes of changes)

II. AGRICULTURE AND PASTORALISM

A. Agriculture
   1. Historical roots (if double roots, i.e., Manchu and Chinese, indicate both)
   2. Technical features (implements, irrigation, fertilizing)
   3. Organizational features
      a. Large and small scale cultivation
      b. Seasonal work
      c. Wages of laborers, slaves
      d. Work of women, children, old people 4. Land tenure
      a. Government
      b. Military settlements (conquerors)
      c. Communal and institutional (towns, temples, schools, clans)
      d. Private
      e. Foreigners
   5. Conditions of tenancy 6. Government and agrarian policy
      a. Flood control and promotion of agricultural techniques (cf. XI)
      b. Promotion of agricultural pursuits and techniques (definite prescribed crops: rice, mulberry trees, poppies)
      c. Reclamation of new land, colonization, taxation (cf. X and XII)

B. Stockbreeding
   1. Dual root and dual development (if two national complexes, e.g. Manchu and Chinese)
   2. Size of herds
   3. Forms of pastoral property
      a. Public herds
      b. Private herds
   4. Character of herding
      a. Technical
      b. Social (owners, hired herdsmen, government employees)

C. Hunting and Fishing
1. Where? (Seacoast, inland: rivers, ponds)
2. How? (tribal traditions)

III. INDUSTRY

A. Branches (salt, iron, coal, textiles, shipbuilding, misc. industries)

B. Form of production

1. Technical features
2. Organization
a. Government and private enterprise
b. Large and small scale production
c. Foreigners? in China Proper (not in settlements)
3. Capital, profits
4. Labor, wages, labor conditions
5. Banner artisans

C. Professional organizations
1. Industrialists and artisans (guilds)
2. Laborers (guilds, secret societies, unions)

D. Government policy
1. Toward Chinese industry
a. Types of policy (taxes, monopoly)
b. Historical changes
2. Toward foreign industrialists

IV. COMMUNICATIONS

A. Means of communications
1. Roads and waterways, railways
2. Carts, ships, animals, men

B. Organization of communications
1. Public
2. Private
a. Costs, profits
b.. Labor

3. Foreign

C. Communications in action
1. Goods, persons, and intelligence moved
2. Speed

D. The Courier Service
1. Foundations
2. Organization

E. Government Policy
1. Toward various types of Chinese communications (taxes, monopoly
2. Toward foreign-controlled communications
a. Shipping
b. Railways

V. COMMERCE

A. Branches
   1. Internal trade
   2. Foreign trade

B. Forms
   1. Organization of trade
      a. Government and private (monopolies)
      b. Foreign
      c. Large scale and small trade
   2. Capital, prices, profits
   3. Labor

C. Social Organization (guilds)
   1. Employer
   2. Employee

D. Government Policy
   1. Toward internal trade
   2. Toward foreign trade
   3. Toward foreign traders

VI. MONEY AND MONEY-LENDING

A. Currency
   1. Coins
   2. Paper Money

B. Lending of money and money-like values
   1. Who? To whom?
      a. Influential and wealthy people
      b. Professional money-lenders
      c. Pawnshops
   2. Terms
      a. Time
      b. Interest
      c. Mortgage
      d. Miscellaneous features

C. Banking
   1. Regional Development
   2. Form and size of business
   3. Foreign banking insitutions in China

VII. SOCIAL ORGANIZATION

1. Social classes, including Powerful Families
2. Kinship system
3. The various aspects of the family
   a. Economic
   b. Legal
   c. Religious
   d. Military
   e. Others

VIII. Folkways

1. The life cycle

a. Birth
b. Childhood and youth
c. Marriage (ceremonies)
d. Death

2. Other folkways, non-religious festivals, entertainments, etc.

IX. Religion

1. Popular religion, including magic
2. Non-government-managed forms of organized religion
3. Government-managed forms of religion

X. THE FINANCIAL SYSTEM

A. Revenue
1. Taxes
a. Land
b. Others
2. Tribute
3. Governmental enterprises
4. Contributions
5. Confiscations
6. Organization of financial administration

B. Expenditures
1. Court
2. Government
a. Salaries
b. Gifts
3. Army
4. Others (Ch'ing: foreign loans, indemnities)
a. Central
b. Local

C. Budget (direct and indirect data)

XI. LABOR SERVICE

A. Task (military; civil; roads, dykes, canals, walls, buildings., parks)

B. The Laborers

C. Organization
1. Seasonal order
2. Duration
3. Remuneration (if any)
4. Excessive services

D. Tribal services

XII. CALAMITIES AND RELIEF POLICY

A. Types of calamities
   1. Floods
   2. Droughts
   3. Locusts

B. Government measures
   1. Charitable
   2. Fiscal
   3. Granaries
   4. Policy toward migrants and resettlement
   5. Other forms of relief
   6. Magic devices
   7. Relief as a racket

XIII. REBELLIONS

A. Types (local or general; social or national)

B. Within the ruling nation
   1. Struggle for the throne
   2. Struggle for minor goals

C. Local revolts (causes, aims, development, outcome)

D. Large scale revolts
   1. Predominantly social
   2. Predominantly national (Chin: Po-hai; Ch'i-tan: Ch'ing: Chinese, Mohammedans)
   3. Mixed

E. Anti-foreign movements (the Boxer Rebellion)

XIV. GOVERNMENT ORGANIZATION

A. Traditions and tasks of the period's government
   1. Dual root (in case of conquest)
   2. Specific problems inherent in conquest situation

B. The political order
   1. The court as center of political life
   2. The central government
   3. The regional government
   4. The local government 5.

C. Election and nomination of officials
   1. Heredity claims
   2. Examination -- schools
   3. Other ways

D. Special functions of government
   1. Religious functions
   2. Intellectual functions
      a. Astronomy
      b. Historiography
      c. Attitude toward learning, education (government academies, libraries)
   3. Brief legal history of law codes and regulations not given in other sections such as II, III, VII, etc.
   4. Foreign affairs

XV. ARMY, NAVY, AND WARFARE

A. The Army
   1. Historical roots
   2. Centers of conquest power (méng-an, mo-k'o; banners)
   3. Chinese armies
   4. Frontier defence
   5. Weapons
   6. Provisions
   7. Changes in the military organization

B. Navy

C. Warfare
   1. Strategic concepts
   2. Mobilization and movement
   3. Types of warfare
      a. Against troops of similar type
      b. Against tribal chemies
      c. Against modern western troops

XVI. THE MAIN EVENTS OF THE PERIOD, CHRONOLOGICALLY TABULATED

. . . . . .

APPENDICES
   1. Chronology
   2. Names and Titles of Emperors
   3. Weights and Measures
   4. History of the Text, Editions, Supplementary Researches

Bibliography

Index

FOLDER NO. (C) 9-2